Included with every AutoCAD release are several "Developer Tools", which are used to allow programmers to write plug-ins or add-ons for use within AutoCAD. Autodesk Exchange Apps, which are third party add-on applications, have been available since AutoCAD 2009. Autodesk Exchange Apps are available for AutoCAD 2010, AutoCAD LT 2010, AutoCAD Architecture 2010, AutoCAD Electrical 2010, AutoCAD Civil 3D 2010, AutoCAD R2010, AutoCAD 2012, AutoCAD LT 2012, AutoCAD 2013, AutoCAD Architecture 2013, AutoCAD Electrical 2013, AutoCAD Civil 3D 2013, AutoCAD R2013, and AutoCAD LT 2014. Operating systems AutoCAD is available for Microsoft Windows, Mac OS X, and Linux operating systems. On macOS and Linux, AutoCAD can be downloaded directly from the developers' website or installed using the Package Manager app. Windows users can download AutoCAD from the Autodesk website or use the Autodesk App Gallery to find AutoCAD-compatible applications. The Windows AutoCAD 2013, 2012 and 2011 are all 64-bit versions, and the Windows AutoCAD 2010, 2007, 2005 and 2002 are all 32-bit versions. Microsoft Windows is currently the most widely used operating system for AutoCAD, although Linux and OS X operating systems are gaining in popularity. AutoCAD LT does not require that the operating system is Windows-based. On macOS, the base operating system is macOS version 10.7 (Lion), 10.8 (Mountain Lion), or 10.9 (Mavericks), but since AutoCAD LT uses a Linux foundation with the Linux kernel of version 3.0.1 or above (see below), older operating systems such as Apple Macintosh System 7 (Mac OS 7) or Mac OS 9 may also be supported. The latest Mac OS X OS X Mavericks 10.9.4 is the most recent version of the operating system used with AutoCAD, as of AutoCAD 2014. On Windows, AutoCAD 2010 was the last 32-bit version, and AutoCAD 2011 is the last 64-bit version. This is also true for AutoCAD LT. AutoCAD is also available for mobile devices (iOS, Android, Windows, Windows Phone) on which it can be used through an iPad, iPhone, Android, or Nokia Windows a1d647c40b
