Addressing the nation on the completion of first 100 days of his government, he said: “I hope all of you will increase your efficiency in using fuel.” He also directed state Commissioner of Consumer Protection to initiate suitable action in the light of the recent high fuel prices. The government, through an ordinance, brought down the price of cooking gas in April this year. But this did not help the consumers much. The opposition has been accusing the government of earning profit by increasing the prices of the crude oil. The Congress and the Aam Aadmi Party have been demanding that the government bring back the ordinance and bring down the prices of petrol and diesel. On the 100th day of his government, the Gujarat Chief Minister said: “We want your support in this fight against price rise. I request you to make it in your own ways and your own knowns.” “We can bring a big impact in this by increasing efficiency of the citizens and keeping them away from the wrong step by educating them,” he said. Modi said the government was ready to bring amendments in the anti-defection law, but it did not happen in the past. “The buck stops here,” he said, referring to himself. Modi said the government was also planning to make fuel more efficient. “The Jiyo Yojana of the government will offer a separate app to help you save fuel,” he said. He said the state government will bring a stringent policy to
