Features Key:

- Authentic, in-depth character and ball physics driven by analytics
- New “Perfect Timing” AI that anticipates the flow of matches. Better space management by delivering the ball to creative teammates in key moments of the game
- In-depth post-match presentation that focuses on player performance and action rather than form
- Innovative heart meter that introduces a new dynamic gameplay movement - using the heart to trust or abandon your on-field instincts. In future your ‘Mannerisms’ will depend on whether you trust your instincts, like a dog or a cat.

Key Specifications:

- 26 Named Player Assists and 12 New Traits that customize your player's behaviour using attributes which impact their style of play
 - Improved weather patterns across all four seasons of the game
 - 40 new stadiums with "Perfect Timing" delivered based on World Cup locales
 - Refinement of existing game modes including Training, Coaching School and 12-Man Team mode. We've listened to the most frequently requested additions and we're now introducing "The Journey", a new single-player story line.
 - A new "AI Assistant" which maintains the intensity and unpredictability of human play-off scenarios, supporting more pass-and-move and short/quick play

EA SPORTS FIFA is the FIFA franchise for video games. The name comes from the fact that it is the best football game in the world. FIFA is the most popular videogame brand in the world. Other brands such as Nintendo's Mario and Call of Duty don't come close to the scope and scale of the football game market. The FIFA brand is deeply embedded into British society, with the Premier League being the league that is played by the most people in the world. Around 2.5 billion people play FIFA, that's more than the population of the entire world. What's it all about? FIFA is a football simulation in which players take control of a team of professional players. The mode is split into three major areas: Offline. This mode allows the player to play against the computer or other players on a single-player basis. This can be achieved in offline matches, as well as online. Online. This allows players to play against other players online. In season mode, players play against all of the other teams in the world. This mode allows them to face their regular season and playoff opponents. Online Leagues. This allows players to play against others online in a league. This can also be face to face against computer, or an online friend. Online Leagues include: FIFA Interactive World Cup, which allows players to compete in an online tournament of 32 teams. It ends with the FIFA Interactive World Cup Final. The FIFA Ultimate Team, which involves players building a team of 27 players, using a range of cards for items and players. League play. This is done over the season.
