The Hebrew Alphabet helps you learn the Hebrew alphabet and test your current language skills. In order to avail yourself of the application's features, install the program on your PC and pair with the mobile version (Android or iOS). Set up multiple players The tool reveals a clean layout that allows you to configure multiple players. A new one can be created by specifying the name, setting up a password, and selecting the learning orientation (e.g. primary school, higher education, professional/technical). In addition, you may assign a preset icon to each user. Take tests The Hebrew Alphabet helps you verify your Hebrew language skills by taking tests where you need to pick the correct answer from multiple choices. The topics included in a test are related to the names of the Hebrew alphabet, print and written forms, and similar letters. The tool comes packed with a game that allows you to match up the print letters using a limited number of attempts. What's more, you need to identify letters that match a certain sound. Check out results An overview with your performance is generated by the program and includes details about the score, accuracy, and time. Plus, you can check out information about the results of your last activity (e.g. score, number of questions in the quiz, incorrect answers), get rewards, as well as create and print a certificate of achievement. Configuration settings The Hebrew Alphabet gives you the possibility to download additional modules from an online library, change the looks of the GUI by selecting between several themes, alter the text size, print the results, and tweak the sound effects played upon correct and wrong answers. Tests have shown that the application carries out a task pretty quickly. However, it is not quite friendly with system resources.
