Calculate exactly how much material to buy for your .; and conclusively that he was in possession of marijuana upon his arrest. Therefore, it follows that the judgment and sentence appealed from is due to be affirmed. Affirmed. JOHNSON, C. J., and SMITH, P. J., concur. NOTES [1] Such a narcotic was not in the possession of appellant at the time of his arrest. [2] Brady v. State, 108 So.2d 521. [3] Appellant was not cited with the offense of possession of marijuana. He was cited with possession of marijuana as proscribed by the Narcotic Drugs Act. Code 1940, T. 15, § 259. They've been in the mix in quite a while, but the race of the day was our own... You'll forgive me if you've never heard of Burning Man, but the event and the people who attend are the stuff that dreams are made of – and if that doesn't knock your socks off, you're just not alive. I'm going to give you a few words – and none of them will be complete because the event is two weeks long and it's good to wake up and smell the coffee every morning. It's a once-in-a-lifetime experience that allows you to transform you into a different person or, in my case, an entirely different author, who learns and grows. These are the things I've learned from the event: 1. Failure is a destination, not a direction. I come home from the desert here at Burning Man, and you hear my wife at home saying, "It's not your fault. I can't believe you didn't get a writing award." Yes, I thought I was going to get one. I was up there with hundreds, if not thousands, of people all looking at each other asking, "Who's going to win?" I lost, and the truth is I can't beat the real winners. In spite of the 49 degrees F
